SELF-BUILDING / RENOVATING / EXTENDING

Nothing beats face to face

When it comes to promoting your business, meeting new customers and making all-important sales, nothing compares to the power of a self build exhibition.

It is proven that exhibitions are the most useful information source for people building their own home. People want to spend their money with companies they trust, and meeting suppliers in person is a fundamental part of their selection process.

Meet serious customers

There are countless shows on the annual calendar, but not all self build exhibitions are made equal. While some claim to be the biggest, or have the highest visitor numbers, Build It Live is the only one committed to providing its exhibitors with serious self builders and renovators, with live projects and ready to spend.

We're passionate about remaining as practical and tailored to self building as possible - so when you exhibit at Build It Live, you'll be sure that you're meeting the right people in the right area - and having the best quality conversations with potential new customers.

We're proud to be different

Unlike other shows, we have a strict vetting process. We only sell stands to focused companies from the self build and renovation sector. In fact, we reject companies if they do not meet the specific needs of self builders and renovators. You'll never find garden furniture or homewares at Build It Live!

This means our visitors don't come to our shows for a day out - they come to speak to expert suppliers and make important buying decisions. If your company offers products or services within the following categories, please contact us today to discuss exhibiting at our shows.

But don't take our word for it...

"I was absolutely delighted with how well received the Build It Live event at Bicester was this year. It was great to be exhibiting again especially in front of a quality, focussed and really engaged audience, the leads have been excellent. It was that good, I rebooked within two hours of the show being open!"

SIMON MIDDLETON, PROTEK

"Thanks to your team for pulling together a great show. It was probably one of the busiest shows I can remember in years and our new architectural division as well as the self-build side captured plenty of strong leads."

JAY HUBBARD,
ENGLISH BROTHERS BESPOKE HOMES

"I have to admit it has been a very good show - the best we've been at this year."

PAUL NEWMAN,
POTTON'S SELF BUILD DIRECTOR

"We were surprised at just how busy the Bicester Build It Live show was, despite it being the first exhibition post-COVID we had attended and it being held in the middle of a fuel shortage! We spoke to a record number of people with viable projects; it was our best show since 2015 and we'll definitely be back!"

CLARISSA YOUDEN, TOTAL HOME ENVIRONMENT

"The quality and volume of the leads is one of the best we have experienced, and we were delighted to sign up again for next year's show."

LEE BROOMHALL, MBC TIMBER FRAME
